PROJECTS

Stratego Networked (Personal Project)

An extension of a Stratego (a project that I made for school) that uses concepts from networking and multithreading to play on two computers.

- The goal of this project was to push further what I had learned in my Advanced Java Programming class and gain more experience with socket networking, multi-threading, and event-based programming.

Stratego (School Project)

Created a java GUI application that replicates the board game Stratego with a classmate for our final project in our advanced java programming class

- We received 100/100 points for the project

Web To Pig Latin (School Project)

Created a java program that intakes an HTML file and outputs a file with content changed to pig latin
